Background:

Since the DrPH Expert Panel of the Framing the Future Task Force released DrPH for the 21st Century in November 2014, Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH)-accredited schools and programs are reviewing their curricula to update teaching and learning for more effective practice in today's workplace.

Moderator:

Jim Raczynski, PhD, MS, FAHA, Chair, DrPH Expert Panel; Member, Framing the Future Task Force; Founding Dean and Professor, Fay W. Boozman College of Public Health, University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences

Special Guest:

Donna J. Petersen, ScD, MHS, CPH, Chair, Association of Schools and Programs of Public Health Education Committee; Chair, Framing the Future Task Force; Dean, College of Public Health, Professor, Global Public Health, Senior Associate Vice President, USF Health, University of South Florida College of Public Health

Speakers:

Patrick Lenihan, PhD, MDO, Clinical Associate Professor, Community Health Sciences, University of Illinois at Chicago School of Public Health

Rita Debate, PhD, MPH, Associate Dean for Academic and Student Affairs, Director of Doctoral Programs, College of Public Health, Professor, University of South Florida College of Public Health

Ian Lapp, PhD, MA, Associate Dean for Strategic Educational Initiatives, Lecturer on Global Health, Harvard School of Public Health; and Peter Berman, PhD, MSc, Faculty Director of Harvard DrPH, Professor of the Practice of Global Health Systems and Economics, Harvard School of Public Health

Aims:

In this webinar the moderator will present the most salient recommendations from the report and, in particular, address issues that schools face in updating their DrPH degrees. The three speakers will highlight how their schools have both considered the recommendations in the DrPH Expert Panel's report and undertaken curricular change to improve graduates' abilities to lead for 21st century public health.

Target Audiences:

- Leadership and faculty of CEPH-accredited schools and programs of public health seeking to update DrPH degree curricula to meet learning needs for contemporary practice
- CEPH-accredited schools and programs of public health considering offering new DrPH programs
- Policy and decision makers who support education in public health as an important driver of workforce readiness for securing population health

Learning Objectives:

After engaging in the webinar, the participant will be able to:

1. Describe the three key sections in the DrPH expert panel's report on the new DrPH degree
2. Explain how three schools are changing their curricula in response to the report's recommendations
3. Reflect upon how the objectives and methods in the highlighted examples relate to improving one's DrPH degree/program

The "ASPPH Presents" Webinar Series is a benefit to CEPH-accredited ASPPH Member schools and programs of public health. The mission of ASPPH is to transform public health by strengthening and promoting the education, research, service and practice activities of CEPH-accredited schools and programs and by advocating for the investment in science needed to advance population health and for evidence-based public health policies and programs.
